WEDNESDAY, OCT. 1, 1879.

LUKE P. BLACKBURN.

Everybody knows, or ought to know, that the present Governor of Kentucky is Luke P. Blackburn. He is a simon-pure Bourbon Demo-Kentucky Bourbons. He is also a Doctor of Physic, some sixty years | deserts, and the sooner he is forgotof age, and, therefore, no juvenile ten the better. Obscurity is his pullet.

During the late unpleasantness, he was a Confederate Democrat. Confederate Democrats insisted that a man ought always to go with his State. Hence, when their States seceded they became Confederates. Well, Mr. Luke P. Blackburn, alias Dr. Luke P. Blackburn, was a Con- before a court, where he has had State will be looked to all over the Nation federate during the civil war. True, plenty of time and ample opporhis State did not secede, but then he thought it ought to, and so he became a Confederate in advance. He is a near kinsman of Congressman Blackburn, of the same State, who recently declared that the Domoe every vestige of Republican war legislation." And Dr. Blackburn is Governor of Kentucky.

But it turns out that since this valiant States Right Doctor could not decently leave Kentucky to fight for the Southern Confederacy, and could not heartily fight for the flag of his fathers-the flag of Washington, of Jackson and of Clay-why, like a high-souled Kentuckian, he nobly ran away to Canada, and there conceived the chive alric idea of introducing yellow fever and small-pox into the Northern cities and into the camps of the Union army. The brave (?) Doctor would thus rival in gallantry Jeff. ten years past. Davis when in female attire he surrendered to a vile set of Lincoln hirelings from Michigan; nay, was quite as valiant as the illustrious J. D. in the sleeping car; and so, though he did his very utmost to introduce and spread the small-pox and yellow fever among the hated Yankees and detestable boys in blue, yet he deemed discretion the weeks. the better part of valor and stayed in Canada.

The Cincinnati Gazette, vile Black Republican sheet that it is, has been wicked enough to ventilate the great Luke's war record, and has pretty effectually fastened on him the infamy of trying to introduce yellow fever germs among Yankee women and children some boards near a chimney in the and Federal soldiers.

The Louisville Courier-Journal has been the Governor's staunch ad- sir; 'tain't been nowhere since we vocate heretofore. Fourteen Months for the Price of One Year.

From now until November, 1880, will be one of the most exciting periods in the political history of this Republic. On the 14th day of next month, the people of Ohio will elect a Governor and other State officers. Heretofore, parties have been very evenly divided there, which, together with the important influence which the result is to have upon the great Presidential contest of next year, gives the contest a national interest, and its decision will be regarded with deep concern in every nook and corner of the Union. Two strong tickets are in the field, and the battle is being waged with a vigor which shows that each party fully appreciates the prize for which they are striving.

In November, the great State of New York will elect a Governor, State officers and a Legislature. This too is a contest of the highest National importance. The Democrats for several years have been in the ascendancy there, but they are now disturbed by internal dissensions, which, together with the disadvantage at which they are placed by being held responsible for the policy inaugurated by their leaders in Congress gives gurated by their leaders in Congress, gives the Republicans great encouragement. This, together with a thorough conviction of the righteousness of their cause, inspires them with courage and confidence, spires them with a thorough conviction redemption, taking from the purchaser notes with a distribution of the righteousness of their cause, inevery inch of the ground with that resolute purpose which animates true and tried with an interest never before felt in a State election. The giants of both political parties, all over the Nation, will take part in the highest bidder, in front of the court house the contest and the issues involved will door in Knoxville, on be ably and thoroughly discussed. Elections will also be held in November, in Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Minnesota, of these States the two great political parties will put forth their best efforts, and results will be looked to with extraordinary

On the first Monday in December our gress meets again, and the session promises to be one of extraordinary interest. The leaders will contend with each other for the vantage ground upon which to make the great political fight of next year, when a President is to be elected and a new Congress to be chosen. Every man who feels any interest in politics will desire to watch every step of the preliminary struggle.

Already an intense interest is manifested in the Presidential struggle of 1880. Both parties are on the alert, wide awake to take advantage of whatever the leaders may imagine to be conducive to their party soccess. Early next summer the National Conventions will be held, and full tickets placed in the field, when the work of the canvass will begin with a vigor never surpassed in any similar contest in the history of Presidential elections. Never before has a greater interest been felt in the result of a national election, so far in advance of the time at which it is to be held, than now exists.

In addition to the national issues, around which will centre so much of pub-sort of exaggeration, this will be the most important of any ever held in the State. The repudiation wing, which is a majority of the Democratic party, is marshalling its hosts for a final charge against the credit, bonor, integrity and good name of the Volunteer State. If they succeed, we are ruined and disgraced. They propose to place in the field a full ticket for Governor and members of the Legislature, composed of men committed to the policy of repudiating a large proportion of the State debt. They will be met by the State credit men, and a desperate effort will be made to rescue Tennessee from the control of those who would bring upon her everlasting ruin and irretrievable disgrace. No n the result of our next State election. In view of these interesting political events, every intelligent man in the Union wants to read regularly at least one live, reliable political newspaper. Such we will make the DAILY CHRONICLE and the WEEKLY WHIG AND CHRONICLE. We intend that our readers shall know all about all the important political events of the day, and, in addition, we expect to take an active part in the discussion of all the issues involved. Our political intelli-gence shall be reliable, and our position on all questions thoroughly understood. We wil wear no man's yoke, will be the organ of no particular ring or clique, but expect to labor for the success of Republican principles with a zeal inspired by the earnest conviction that we are right.

While we shall keep our readers fully posted on political questions, we will also continue to devote a large share of our space to agricultural, educational, religious, scientific, literary, industrial and commercial intelligence, giving something in each issue that will interest readers of er too warm for church sits under the every avocation and profession, and all ages, sexes and conditions in life.
